

Decor Moulding & Supply of Hauppauge, NY and Southern Moulding & Supply of Kennesaw, GA are proud to announce the merger of the companies as of August 2, 2010. These two very successful companies will now become a stronger and more dominant player in the industry. The merger will allow both firms to buy stronger and more effectively, offering their combined customer base more stable prices and quicker deliveries for the future. Both firms will carry full product lines of mouldings, ready-mades, ovals and framing supplies. Decor's strong presence in the southeast over many years, combined with a full-line distribution facility in Georgia, will result in Decor's product lines reaching customers faster at reduced freight costs and at the same low prices its customers have always appreciated. Sandy Davis, general manager and a member of the founding family of Southern Moulding, who has served the company and its customers in many capacities and played a major role in its growth since 1985, has announced her retirement. All other management and staff will remain in place at the existing locations to continually provide exceptional service. This merger is a notification to the industry that we are helping our customers reduce their framing costs in these very hard economic times. Michael Katz of Decor Moulding, Tony Leonardo and Daven Davis of Southern Moulding are all very excited about the merger and look forward to serving our customers for mutual success and growth.

As always, Decor Moulding continues our commitment to Best in Value and First in Selection.
